Jesus Heals Malchus

<sup>47</sup> While he was still speaking, suddenly a crowd came, and the one called Judas, one of the twelve, was leading them. He approached Jesus to kiss him; <sup>48</sup> but Jesus said to him, “Judas, is it with a kiss that you are betraying the Son of Man?” <sup>49</sup> When those who were around him saw what was coming, they asked, “Lord, should we strike with the sword?” <sup>50</sup> Then one of them struck the slave of the high priest and cut off his right ear. <sup>51</sup> But Jesus said, “No more of this!” And he touched his ear and healed him. -Luke 22:47-51

After witnessing so much violence and rioting in our major cities this summer, one of the most senior members of our church asked me, “What should I do if mob violence breaks out in my neighborhood?” That’s a good question. How does Jesus call his followers to respond when they are attacked and face extreme violence?

In his Sermon on the Mount in Matthew 5:38-39, 43-44, Jesus told his disciples, <sup>38</sup> “You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.’” <sup>39</sup> But I say to you, Do not resist an evildoer. But if anyone strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other also.... <sup>43</sup> You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’ <sup>44</sup> But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you.” This is a hard teaching, but Jesus didn’t just teach non-violent response to violence. He also practiced it in the most defining moments of his life.

All four Gospels tell us of the way Jesus responded when he was betrayed by one of his disciples and attacked by a mob that was sent by the religious authorities to arrest him. Each of the Gospel writers reveal different details about that fateful evening. Mark says that someone in the crowd struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his ear. Matthew says that one of Jesus’ disciples cut off the ear of the high priest’s servant, and in Matthew’s Gospel, Jesus tells his disciples, “Put your sword back into its place; for all who take the sword will perish by the sword.” Only John tells us that it was Peter who struck the high priest’s servant whose name was Malchus, and only Luke tells us that after Peter cut off Malchus’ ear that Jesus said, “No more of this!” And he touched his ear and healed him.

On Sunday, we will continue our Hope and Healing sermon series by taking a closer look at all four of the Gospel accounts of the betrayal and arrest of Jesus. We’ll focus on the way Jesus spoke out against violence even when his disciples tried to defend him and how he healed one of the men who came to arrest him and condemn him to an agonizing death on a cross. I hope you will invite someone you know to join us for worship in person or online.

I am excited to let you know that we will host a Church Picnic on Sunday, October 25 at 5:00 p.m. We invite you to bring picnic food for yourself and your family and join us outside on the south end of our parking lot for an evening of food and fellowship. Have a great week, and I will see you on Sunday.

Blessings,
Trevor

Hope and Healing

We all have hurts, and we all need healing. Throughout his ministry, Jesus healed all kinds of people. Jesus healed children. Jesus healed mentally ill people. Jesus healed lepers. Jesus even healed his enemies. Every time Jesus healed people he offered them hope.

Join us as we take a closer look at four people Jesus healed. Together, we'll experience Jesus' Hope and Healing and learn how we can offer Hope and Healing to people in the name of Jesus.

Children's Ministry

Over the last few weeks, our children decided to start a missional project by making friendship bracelets for 200 John Marshall High School students. The last two weeks during Sunday School and our 10:50 Children's Church have been filled with lots of laughter, long pieces of colorful string, and sharing different concepts of how to make each bracelet special.

We filled toiletry bags with supplies, bracelets, and an encouraging scripture. We would like to thank Stephanie Henry for leading this missional opportunity for our children to serve others, and for the donation of thread. We also would like to thank our families, volunteers, and staff that made it possible for our children to lift up students at John Marshall High School. Way to go, Nichols Hills U.M.C. families!

Blessings,
Tausha

Youth Ministry

Hunter Patman
Fountain,
Youth Director

These past couple of weeks have been so eventful here at Nichols Hills United Methodist Church with many things happening! And I have been excited about each one of them. I have been so glad to meet more and more of the youth each week. We truly have a great bunch of students at this church.

As for Sunday School, we meet each Sunday at 9:45 a.m. I would love to meet anyone who wishes to attend. I also want to say that I am excited for the future of the youth group in this church. I see the Lord doing great things every day in the life of our faith-based community.

Sincerely,
Hunter

Tidbits from The Learning Center

Denise Buthion,
T.L.C. Director

Each month our families participate in our Scholastic Book sale. We send out flyers and emails to let families know when the orders are due. The Learning Center earns points based on the dollar amount spent by our families. Our families are blessed to get great books to read at home with their children. We have been blessed to receive over $140 worth of books with our points for August and September! The children's books are seasonal and faith based and often align with our weekly themes. That's what we call a win-win.
